I. Introduction

Government of India should aptly apply the safety NET/measures for bringing the new NRI Marriages Act to make more viable and happy NRI Marriages which are frequently solemnised in India.

Much has been spoken and lot of criticisms thrown over to PM Narendra Modyji's Government for not being able to find out any solution like previous government to enact any stringent law for clean and safe NRI Marriages which are frequently celebrated in India.

It was seen that so many NRI fraudsters duped and ruined Indian brides along with their families by showing unrealistic dreams to the bride's family to lure the bride and finally the marriage collapsed abruptly.

Often the present Indian government is being largely criticized by the entire world for not being able to formulate any stringent law to save the Indian women from this marriage sharks.

Here are some suggestive safety nets/ measures which could be much effective to save wretched brides from these fraudsters grooms.

1 All NRI who wish to marry Indian girls they must have obtained pre marriages registration certificates from NRI PRE MARRIAGE REGISTRATION CENTRES, should be known as (PMRC) (at least 10 centres should have metropolitan cities in India) must be operated by MEA i.e. central government.

2 .Their foreign addresses and working places must be verified through the GPS system (paper and photographs must be enclosed) and photographs of which should be kept by the concerned Indian Embassies as well as in India on payment of rational verification costs to be borne by said NRI groom or his party.

3. They should submit all foreign and Indian relative documents like VISA, DEBIT CARD, ALL LICENSES (foreign and Indian) Bank Details, educational certificates and other related documents i.e. Phone No /Indian phone nos etc.(pre verified) should be preserved by the PMRC officials of MEA.

4. Two NRI surities and two more Indian surities must be present at the time of marriage and should give their full details and full addresses & also photographs and phone no which must have be signed in the form of joint Undertaking supporting the Marriage which further may be kept in PMRC as Holy Documents to prevent any willful marriage debacle.

5. Doctors fitness certificates from India or health cards to be obtained from India (Authorized by MEA) stating that the health status of bride and groom as fit for marriage in both physically and mentally.

6. NRI groom must deposit to PMRC, Rs 10,00,000/- to Rs 20,00,000/- (as PRE MARRIAGE caution money) to be linked with Banks and which should be locked for 5 to 7 years subject to successful completion of Happy marriage .

That amount can be returned after 7 years only on obtaining the Marriage Satisfaction Certificates to be signed by both the couple with their latest Photograph and present Residence certificate which is also to be verified by the official of MEA. In case of any fraud detected the entire amount with interest is to be paid to bride as compulsory maintenance.

These above mentioned measures is debatable but the Govt should go for that without further delay to save Indian girl who are in abroad and still languishing in the foreign countries with the ray of hope of their immediate rescue.
