Abstract

In Cuddalore district women are constituted 132,306 lacks while India has female population 48 percentages. Despite these percentages in state and central level their development and progress are not yet determined strongly by them on account of several visible and invisible social, economical and political problems. Since 1947 onwards India have been facing several administrative problems, political problems and social problems due to the drastic affect of British Raj administration, several governments were headed and ruled in India after 1947 toward make changes in the following fields but fifty percentages reformative works are done but twenty percentages reforms were not able to make by these administrators though women were facing still lot of problems as inexpressible as inescapable. Since they are familiar in these problems they initiated new types of works, occupation, business with an aim to empower, encourage and motivate themselves for attain self sufficiency in their life even in Cuddalore district as well as in entire India, they might have been forgotten if they face those problems one day and one month but they have been facing continuously these problems without solutions because most of these problems are caused and raised from the male sections from ordinary citizens to rulers so, the situations keeps them at changeless points as they are not able do anything and struggle with male dominated societies. For an alternative to those problems they are resumed and initiated entrepreneurship attitudes, in which several women in cuddalore district are doing several types of jobs without any social shyness with an aim to fortify their survival and livelihood.

Introduction

Naturally and basically women are solicitous on all the issues and problems than male people and also being more responsible and accountable in each and every family to conduct their family as prosperous as equal to other family while most of male people are forgetting these chief duties. Rather than men women are being as a chief tools and engine of family and social development, to make changes and developments in the family they are jumbling from the men's challenges and hurdles to run their family for the purpose of family developments and their children futures developments, though men challenges were continuous one to them but they have been jumping and escaping since they are an attributions of responsibility, ethical and morality laden genders than male people.

In attaining self sufficiency in their life they are doing lots of hard works beyond the social and household problems and challenges but they are not able to cross further steps in their occupations owing to family problems, which is major threads in their life since independence India which they are struggling to overcome but seems impossible because marriage life is inseparable life in the same way problems also would be inseparable, it is a duty given by god to female people to manage and adjust male people problems for the purpose of family prosperity and developments. Cuddalore district has fourteen blocks in which there are several women entrepreneurship, are facing lot of inexpressible unpredictable problems which this study is going to examine and analyze for which this study has been chosen four blocks only with an intention to highlight all the blocks entrepreneurs' problems through analyzing these four taluks entrepreneurs problems and challenges. Problems and challenges of the women people are not a new one it is a familiar one why their problems could not be solved is family to ruler is male people they don't like to resolve instead of being patience and calm.

Therefore, there are plethoras of challenges and problems in workmen's entrepreneur's and occupation, these challenges are being as potential thread in their all path of developments without solutions. Long years life difficulties of them in family, social and economical have made them to think about futures of their family and children, for which they planned to do self business and occupation on their own creativity and hard work, in accomplishing these tasks they are facing several problems from their family, neighbors and government. Following business are done by them in Cuddalore district: Candle making, match box making, beedi making, powder making, chemicals making, soap manufacturing, house, chili powder making, household items making, pesticide making, Tailoring skills, attire making, computer service, fruits selling, vegetables selling, petty shops running, meat selling and other so many business doing

Their entrepreneur skill and job could be developed successfully further lot if they get proper aid from the block level and district level, yet their business will be able to develop if their husband problems and mother-in-law problems were reduced, if people start to earn more income they will give more order and purchase the manufacturing item and materials of the women manufacturing materials ,further government have to motivate them to do their work without hindrance of any political and family negative influences .Rather than male people in taking care of family ,the female people have been taking several steps in terms of protecting, preserving and nurturing family developments ,their roles are really colorful and wonderful which contributes lot in the social developments and reconstruction .Here all male people could not be blamed that they are not integrated with female people in conducting family in good aspects ,in which some of male people are not leaving and letting the female people to do their activities for the family developments. These types of menace should be reduced to develop further their entrepreneurship skills and business.

Review of literature is a tool to understand of the various author's works on particular works, it illustrates and make legible about the various situations of the women empowerment and occupation problems and positive improvements. Through this the researcher is able to choose the research gap; find out unique information which has not been quoted by other others. The researcher is able to understand thoroughly about his chosen topic is good while he analyze the various documents and literatures, simply review of literature is enabling the researcher to yield various phenomena of women entrepreneurs problems and prospects to write a thesis in a excellent way along with inserting appropriate messages about them. It gives immense knowledge and wisdom to a researcher to understand past and present literatures about them to come to filtered ideas and opinion for write down in a thesis, while a researcher is reading multiple revive of literature he is getting plethora of knowledge and also his mind starts to secretion new types of information and philosophy as to produce a quality thesis among the thesis written by others.

Regarding to this research topic and theme several authors are mentioned lot of ideas and opinion generally as to male people influences over female people and household problems are being as serious hurdles in the path of women empowerment. In specifically about real challenges of this research topic non of authors are expressed factual views of this research them in terms of role of Block development officers, rural development officers, role of Block level chairmen, District Chairmen and District collector in terms of promoting the true needs of the women entrepreneurs in the cudalore district of Tamilnadu .Regarding these quoted points and unique discoveries this research them will seriously work toward examining and analyzing their role in reducing the challenges to women empowerment and business.

The major purpose of this study is to explore and examine the challenges of women entrepreneur's in Cuddalore District, its examining domains are demarcated as three types one is social, political and economical in these three categories their predictable and exposing challenges would be diagnosed with the tools of the primary study .This work is aimed at analyzing and verifying the major challenges of them in their business and life styles as unique as efficiently .This is a study which would like to explore historical and modern challenges of their business and works in their dwelling area and out of that while number o studies have been done on positive attitudes of the women entrepreneurs in the society. through this study their challenges and challenges resolving solution would be discovered and it would be forwarded to worldwide digital library for the understanding of the global people for make suitable law .While number of studies are written on positive aspects of this topic but this is a only one study which would like to examine the challenges of women entrepreneurs in terms of family, social ,political and economical aspects .Doing business are not easy task where entrepreneurs have to meet so many hurdles due to local resident's pressures and other occupation oriented motivations and zealous ,good work could be done beyond these types of pressures so, this study has been focusing on women entrepreneurs' problems and challenges in Cuddlaore District.

Hypotheses

Women entrepreneurs problems are not new case to this society ,it is a traditional, factual and familiar one across the India .It has been continuous one without change and alterations though it was familiar one .Since most of challenges are posed and generated by the male people, their problems and challenges are increased and multiplied at all level of women life .Since most of women entrepreneurs are not having enough money ,income and loan facilities they are facing hardship and hurdles in their business and occupations .They are getting challenges and stress from the money lenders when they are not able to repay derived money with interest. In these categories some of women entrepreneurs are facing problems from their mother-in-law and husband when they are not able to give money to husband for liquor consumption and mother in-law for family expenditures. From the above quoted points women's are getting problems in the multifarious ways which must be mitigated and resolved with the positive attitudes of family member, society and government must encourage them with offering loan facilities.

Methodology

Obviously this is an empirical study which would use questionnaire method to acquire and derive the potential challenges of the women entrepreneurs in the cuddalore district. It has been chosen four blocks in which entire women entrepreneurs would be given questionnaire to know their feedback about their challenges .Regarding to this district administration and block level administration's women entrepreneurs records and documents would be thoughtfully analyased . In each block women entrepreneurs would be discussed by the researcher while give questionnaire with an aim to understand their challenges in their occupations.

Purely and indeed this study is going fall in the domain of the women entrepreneur's challenges in the four blocks of the Cuddalore district alone, its major subjects issues would be discussed and analyzed in the social ,economical and political fields with an aim to understand their factual situation in their business .Further, all the records, documents and initiatives of the district and block level administrations would be discussed and examined for the understandings of present days government role in motivating the women entrepreneurship and overcome their challenges .Finally the pros and cons of the women's occupation challenges would be discussed in scientific ways .

Since this research work is going to examine and analyze the potential and major challenges of the women's entrepreneurs in the Cuddalore district its jurisdictions and boundary of entire women occupations issues and challenges in India and international context would be reviewed for the sack of wide range different problems of them. This research could not be coming to conclusion with the help of information found as to Cuddalore district alone but also will able to come to conclusion through reviewing of plethora and vast material about the women's occupations problems in all the levels of global administration. Therefore, this work will embrace source of the international and domestic women entrepreneur's problems and prospects in the way to empower them in business and occupational level as steady as strong .Role of government, central government, block level administrators and district administrators would be touched fully with an effort to fortify women life in all. Prospects and futures of their developments.

Conclusion

Though women are growing, developing and enriching their life in lot of ways from ancient period to present days but their rights and dignity is needs to be protected and respected by the male genders. In this aspects male people needs to show leniency, mercy, sympathy on women community for emanate and emancipate their life as equal to other male people in the society, as a male community should cooperate with women community to ensure and enrich their basic civil rights and also should be as a guardian of their social and civil life in all these aspects of social process. Chief role of male is to be with female people in all sphere and pattern of the social development, their failure and absence in cooperating with female would be fetching dangerous situation to their life and creating insecure situation .By understanding this situation male's presences and cooperation is indispensable in every household and public places for motivate and embolden them to develop in social, economical and political developments.
